Most Magnificent Parade in History of the City is Promised Atlantans.
MAYOR JAMES WOODWARD
WILL DELIVER ADDRESS

C. W. Bernhardt Will Act as Marshal of the Day—Ship of State Float Will Be One of the Features of the Parade
Today.

By E. O. Bruffey.
The greatest day in the history of the working men of Atlanta dawned this morning, and before the sun goes down the Atlanta Federation of Trades will be happier and prouder than it has ever been since its creation.

A holiday throughout the city it will be. None of the members of the trades union will be at work—all will be off for the day.

For weeks and weeks members of the various committees have been industri-ously at work perfecting the exercises for the day and that the committees have done most excellent and satisfactory work will be shown.

The parade will be one of the largest and most magnificent Atlanta has ever known. Floats equally magnificent with the floats of Mardi Gras towns will be found in line, while the merchants of Atlanta are vying one with another in presented original creations. The float made for the ship of state is said to be one of the most magnificent creations that Atlanta has seen since the days of the Mystic Owl, an organization more than a quarter of a century ago. Upon that float will ride the colony of young ladies, all attired in the sailor colors with Master Jerome Jones in spotless white appearing as the sailor boy.

The floats and the various organizations, a full membership of each being anticipated, will gather at the junction of the Peachtree streets at 9:30 o'clock to form the parade. The invited guests will come together at the city hall, where carriages will be in waiting. The carriages will be driven direct to the point of rendezvous and without delay the line of march will be taken up. Down Peachtree to Whitehall the procession will move. Then out Whitehall to Forsyth, where it will then turn back, moving until it reaches Alabama, along which it will go to Broad, thence to Marietta, where it will disband and whence the participants will see Ponce de Leon.

The parts of the line of march follow:
Mounted police.
Military band.
Chief marshal and aides.

Federation float.
Farmers' unions.

Mountain.

SHAME

OF ASSAULT
FORCED GIRL
TO KILL SELF

Pretty Effie Leavell Couldn't Endure Disgrace Brought Upon Her by Ravisher.

OUTRAGED GIRL IS DEAD;
RAVISHER GETS 5 YEARS.

Pathetic Story of Daughter of Confederate Officer Who Was Criminally Assaulted in Philadelphia—She Took Poison To Be Rid of Her Shame.

Philadelphia, Pa., September 2.—(Special.)—Unable to bear longer the shame brought upon her by a criminal assault, the daughter of a confederate, Colonel B. F. Leavell, 16-year-old Effie Leavell, died this morning at the German hospital as the result of poison which she took with suicidal intent nearly three weeks ago. John Evans, the man who assaulted the girl, is now serving a five-year sentence for the crime.

The Leavells moved first to 302 North Twentieth street, and then, pursued by poverty and the stigma of shame, to a modest little home in Harris place. Effie continued to work in a big department store on Market street during the day,
and at night attended a business college.
The shame of the affair preyed on her mind. One night three weeks ago Mrs.
Leavell went out with the two younger girls, Lottie and Annie. When she returned she was surprised not to see Effie down stairs. Lottie went up to Effie's bedroom, and the elder sister calmly said: "Tell mother to come to me at once." Mrs. Leavell went upstairs. "I have taken poison, mother," said the girl.
"I couldn't stand it any longer."
An empty bottle of bichloride of mercury which had been in the house for many months confirmed the statement. She died today.
Colonel B. F. Leavell, her father, a wealthy orange planter and a veteran of the civil war, had died three years before of heart disease, brought on by the loss of his fortune.

DISTINCT DETERIORATION.
SAYS THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT
New Orleans, September 2.—The Times-Democrat's report of its correspondents as to the progress of the cotton crop during the month of August shows the following consensus of opinion:
1. While the reports vary greatly with the districts from which they come, there can be no doubt that, taking the belt as a whole, there has been a distinct deterioration.

2. Excessive rains in most sections have retarded the development of the plant and caused it to run to weed.

3. The movement will, from the present outlook, be later than the normal by about two weeks.

4. Farmers seem inclined to hold, in the expectation that prices will show a sharp improvement within the near future.

5. Texas complains of damage by boll worms and boll weevil and so do some sections of Louisiana. It is yet too early to approximate the injury from this cause.

WILL ASSIGN PLACES ON CARS.
Union Men Charge That Officials
Show Partiality to Non-Unionists.
Macon, Ga., September 2.—President
May, of the Macon Federation of Labor, will assign tomorrow the conductors and motormen for work on the street cars of this city. This arrangement was made this afternoon when the union employees of the company demanded the dismissal of every non-union man on the cars because of alleged discrimination in favor of the non-union men. The outcome is watched with interest by the traveling public, as recently all the cars were tied up.

Root Dines at Palace.
San Diego, Calif., September 2.—Secretary of State Root dined this evening with President Roosevelt at the palace.
Brief speeches were made by Mr. Root and Minister of Foreign Affairs Hnuna expressive of the most kindly feeling between Chile and the United States.

fessed that he struck Joseph

him and then buried him alive beneath

BRIDE OF 13 YEARS TORN FROM YOUTHFUL HUSBAND

RALEIGH, N. C., September 2.—(Special.)—William Howell, aged 18, has been separated from his bride of two days, who was 13 years of age last May. They fled from Wayne county, near here, last Tuesday afternoon,

KIDNAPED FROM CRADLE BOY TELLS PATHETIC STORY

DECATUR, Ala., September 2.—(Special.)—A most peculiar and pathetic story of a kidnaped boy comes from Caddo, Lawrence county, some 25 miles west of this city.
A boy who gave his name as Willie Beville went to the home of a Mrs.
Teague, near Caddo, a few days ago and told her that he had been kidnaped from the home of his parents on Sand

Mountain about four years ago by his uncle, whose name is Beville, and that this uncle abandoned him about three years ago. He is about 10 years of age and is unable to read. The strange part of the story is that the boy says he does not know just where his mother lives or how to reach her by mail.
Since his uncle abandoned him he has been living around from place to place.

HIS WIFE

HE SHOT DEAD,
THEN HE TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

Covering Wife's Eyes, Hayes Killed Her and Then Turned Pistol On Himself.

SCREAMS OF THE WIFE HEARD BY HER CHILDREN

Hayes and Wife Were in Bed When Tragedy Was Enacted—Albany
Is Stirred by the Bloody Act—No Cause Is Known.

Albany, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)— With their mother's cries for help still ringing in their ears, the children of G. Howard Hayes and wife, heard the two pistol shots which sent both of their parents into eternity a few minutes before noon today.

The double tragedy is one of the strangest that ever occurred in Albany, was enacted in a bed chamber of the Hayes home on north Washington street. When a physician reached the place, a few minutes later, Mrs. Hayes was dead, and her husband was gasping his last.

G. Howard Hayes was a saw mill operator who spent every week at the B.
Pope mill, some miles above Albany on the A. and N. railroad. He returned home each Saturday evening and remained with his family until Monday.

No Thought of Death Shadow
He came in as usual day before yesterday evening, and at the supper table last night appeared to be in the best of humor.

His eldest daughter, Emmie, a pretty girl just blossoming into womanhood, and Julian, a boy of 5 years, were at the table as were Mrs. Manning, and several young men, who board with the family. It was a thoroughly congenial company who laughed, joked and chatted without a thought of the black shadow which hung over the household.

This morning neither Hayes nor his wife appeared at the breakfast table, both taking the meal in their room. It was just before noon that Mrs. Hayes was heard to call for help. From her room there had proceeded for an hour or more no responses, then the voices were raised above a conversational tone and Mrs. Hayes called as if in terror, "Emmie, Rosa, Mr. White, come quick!"

In Their Night Clothes.
Almost immediately a pistol rang out closely followed by another, and then a noise as if a body falling on the floor followed, after which deep silence prevailed in the closed room. The parties called were the eldest daughter of the Hayes, J. S. White and Miss Rosa Clemens, who boarded with the family.
The door opening from the bedroom to the dining room was locked and when White climbed into a window opening into the parlor, he saw that the two shots had done their work only too well.

The body of Mrs. Hayes was still laying in the bed, while that of her husband's was on the floor at her side.
Both were in their night clothes.
Miss Emmie Hayes, though White begged her not to go into the room, climbed through the window into the midst of the most awful scene, her eyes had ever witnessed. She opened the door from the inside and gave directions for the immediate summons of a physician.

Mrs. Hayes was shot just back of the left ear, apparently as she lay on the bed. Hayes probably held his left hand over her eyes as he fired the first shot, as the hand bore powder marks. He then placed the muzzle of the revolver behind his own ear and

Uncle Sam States That COTTON IS KING Of American Export Trade

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 2.—"Cotton is king in the export record of the United States for the fiscal year just ended." This is the introductory sentence of a statement just issued by the department of commerce and labor. Continuing the statement says:
"The total value of raw cotton exported for the first time crossed the $400,000,000 line and exceeded by far the value of any other article of merchandise sent out of the country. The exports of breadstuffs of all kinds aggregated but $188,000,000, those of provisions but $211,000,000 and those of iron and steel manufactures but $161,000,000.
"The value of cotton exported has increased very rapidly during the last five years. It was not until 1901 that it crossed the $300,000,000 line, and in a short five years period it has grown to more than $400,000,000, or an increase of about 33 per cent.
"Cause of Growth.
"This growth is due in part to an increase in the quantity exported, but in part also to the advance in price since the quantity exported in 1905 was about 700,000,000 pounds less than in 1905, while the value was $21,000,000 more than in 1905.
"The exportation of manufactured cotton was also larger in 1905 than in any earlier year, aggregating practically $53, 000,000, against $50,000,000 in 1905 and $22,500,000 in 1904. The growth in manufactured cotton has been quite as striking as that of raw material.
"Europe is, of course, our principal customer for raw cotton. The United Kingdom took last year $177,000,000 worth, Germany $101,000,000, France $45,000,000 and Italy about $27,000,000, while the other countries of Europe took about $32,000,000 worth. Japan is also a customer for our raw cotton, but very irregular in the quantity bought, since she only buys largely of American cotton when prices are low, relying upon India and China in years when American prices are high. The value of cotton exported to Japan in the fiscal year 1906 was, in round terms, $8,000,000; in 1905, $17, 000,000, and in 1904, less than $3,000,000.
China Good Customer.
"In manufactured cottons China is by far our largest customer. The total value of all cotton manufactures exported in the fiscal year 1906 was, as above indicated, $83,000,000. In round terms, of which about $30,000,000 went to China.
Practically all of the cotton goods sent to China was in the form of cloth. The total value of cotton cloths exported to sent a bullet crashing through his brains.

Cause of the Tragedy Not Known.

The cause of the double tragedy is not revealed. Mrs. Hayes had been in bad health for some time and at times her mind appeared to be affected, but the occasional family quarrels were apparently not more serious in character than are to be expected between the average married couples. Those who boarded with them state that their married life was not unhappy. Just what happened during the night or forenoon preceding the tragedy, will, probably, never be known.

Hayes left no note to explain his act. He drank occasionally, but was perfectly sober last night. He came to this state from New York a number of years ago. Mrs. Hayes was a Miss Lulu Manning. There are three surviving children. One, a girl 12 years old, is visiting in Lee county. A coroner's inquest this afternoon threw no light on the case.

TWO OTHER WOMEN

ALSO KILL THEMSELVES
Because of ill-health, May Hook killed herself by inhaling illuminating gas. Despondent because she had lost all her possessions in a fire, which destroyed her home, Mrs. Christine Snyder, 32 years old, ended her life by inhaling illuminating gas.

DEATH IS DEALT BY BLACK HAND

Salvatore Walsch, who is said to be one of the most desperate members of the Black Hand, started a fight with a constable in front of the house where Walsch lived. Walsch, who is a native Italian, was under arrest the latter invited him into the house to prove his good character. Logan had scarcely passed the door when one of three Italians in the house made a lunge at him with a still, the weapon passing between his arm and body. Logan retreated, but before he got 15 feet from the building an Italian opened fire on him with a magazine shotgun. Logan returned the fire and the two men emptied their weapons at each other. Logan got one buckshot wound in the foot, and the desperado was seen to fall back into the house, perhaps fatally wounded.

Black Hand to Deal With.
Logan, by inquiring of the residents, learned that he had a Black Hand to deal with. He then telephoned to the barracks at this place, and a detachment of five privates was detailed by Lieutenant Eggle to go to his assistance. The detachment arrived at Florence at 4:30 o'clock. Private John Henry immediately started for the house, but when about 20 feet from it was shot down. Chambers and Mullen, in attempting the rescue of their companion, were shot down before they reached him.

A telephone call was then sent in for the entire force. In addition to the troops were hurried to the scene. When the second detachment arrived at 6:30 o'clock and while twelve of the constabulary kept firing into the windows and front door, the police made a rush for the side door, which they entered in. Three of the officers, Zeheringer, Gross and Cummings, dashed up the stairs, but were confronted by three of the desperadoes. Zeheringer fell at the first volley, but the two other men escaped. Quick as a flash the gang closed the door and there is little doubt that Zeheringer was killed, as several shots were fired inside immediately after the door was closed.

Useless Sacrifice of Life.
Realizing that lives were being sacrificed uselessly and the storm and darkness being on, the troops sent for carbines and prepared to keep the house surrounded until morning. The wildest excitement prevailed in Punxsutawney and nearby towns. Fifteen troops and several policemen, together with many citizens heavily armed, are on guard. Sixteen Italians boarded in the besieged house, but it is not known how many are inside or the number implicated in the shooting. The position of the watchers is a perilous one tonight, as there are many treacherous members of the Black Hand in and about Florence and the surrounding mines. The policemen have riddled with bullets the house where the desperadoes are lodged, but it is not known with what result. Their fire has been returned, but without any regard for aiming the guns, as anything seen moving inside the building is at once the target of a volley of shot from the watchers.

Dynamite Is Advocated.
The problem for the morning is the dislodging and capture of the besieged Italians, who are evidently preparing to sell their lives dearly. Many citizens have brought dynamite and advocated blowing the building to atoms. But Lieutenant Eggle is determined to capture the murderers of his troops by lawful means. The police have arranged six powerful searchlights and the entire building is in plain view. At 11 o'clock one of the heaviest rainstorms experienced here this season started, but all the watchers are standing bravely on guard. The Florence mine is owned by the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Company.

Negro Butchers to Stay Out.
Baltimore, September 2.—(Special.)—Calia, secretary-treasurer of the International Butchers' Union, who addressed a meeting of the striking butchers here today, advised that they stand by their original demands for a nine-hour day without reduction in pay. Resolutions were passed opposing violence. It is said that about thirty firms are affected by the strike, and that since the men stopped work six have accepted terms.

FORTY-FIVE WARSHIPS GATHER AT OYSTER BAY AT ROOSEVELT'S ORDER

President Will Review the Atlantic Fleet of the United States Today—Fifteen Thousand Sailors Man the Fleet.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., September 2.—The United States Atlantic fleet is ready for the inspection of President Roosevelt tomorrow, when the greatest American naval review in history takes place. The 45 ships were in the positions assigned them at noon. They lie in three columns east and west just outside the entrance to Oyster Bay in Long Island sound.

It is probably the greatest aggregation of warships ever seen in the waters of the western hemisphere. In the fleet there are 15,000 men. Just before dark, the Dolphin, flying the flag of the secretary of the navy, appeared from the eastward and circled the fleet some distance off. Although no salutes were fired, the flag of the secretary was accorded the proper honors, ships' bells being manned and trumpets sounded. No calls were made and the Dolphin steamed into the harbor and anchored.

The Mayflower, which is to carry President Roosevelt, lies tonight where he will board her in the morning in the harbor. A number of dispatch boats are also in the harbor for readiness in the morning. The president's guests tonight at Sagamore Hill include Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Bonaparte; Freiherr Speck von Sternberg, the German ambassador, and Surgeon General Riker.

Although a brisk breeze was blowing and clouds threatening rain, the anchorage ground of the fleet was a place of great attraction all day for pleasure craft of every description. The harbor tonight is crowded with yachts, launches, houseboats, oyster steamers and, in short, every type in which craft can be pressed into service.

Oyster Bay is overwhelmed with guests. The single hotel turned crowds away supperless tonight and to secure shelter and a cot to sleep on is a luxury.

The review begins tomorrow at 11 o'clock and as President Roosevelt is to remain out of the sound on the Mayflower until midnight to witness the electrical display and illumination of the ships, it will not end until he leaves his flagship at night. During this time the ships of the fleet will be in position in the harbor. They will weigh anchor at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and proceed to their several stations.

The following is the programme to be observed:

8 a. m.—Ships full dress.

10:45 a. m.—Mayflower with president leaves anchorage.

11 a. m.—Mayflower reaches head of column.

12 m.—Mayflower anchors.

12:05 p. m.—Commander in chief visits Mayflower.

12:10 p. m.—Squadron and division commanders move off for Mayflower.

2:15 p. m.—Reception on board Mayflower.

2:30 p. m.—President visits Maine, Alabama, West Virginia in succession and perhaps other ships.

8 p. m.—Ships illuminate. When the review is over the ships will proceed to different stations, according to previous assignment. At the close of the review there will be a reception on the Mayflower, at which the president will greet the commanders of the ships.

IN PANIC ON STEAMER WOMEN AND CHILDREN ARE BADLY TRAMPLED

Wild Desire to See Roosevelt and Naval Show Comes Near Resulting in Horror—Nearly 2,000 Passengers Stampede.

New York, September 2.—A wild desire to see the battleships and cruisers assembled off Oyster Bay for tomorrow's big naval review, caused a panic among the 1,800 passengers on the big side-wheel steamer Bridgeport this morning, in which scores of women and children were thrown to the decks and trampled upon.

As the big side-wheeler approached the fleet, everyone rushed to the port side. The steamer heeled over until her guns were submerged and a flood rushed over the lower deck.

"She's turning over," was the cry.

The crowd rushed for the starboard rail, causing just as terrific a list in that direction. Then came a mad fight for life preservers, in which many were injured.

The most seriously injured were: Miss Margaret Kenny, Williston street, Bridgeport, sprained ankle and internal injuries.

Miss Lizzie McKim, South avenue, Bridgeport, sprains, bruises and hysteria.

Both were taken to the home of friends in this city under care of physicians, when the Bridgeport finally landed.

ADVANCE STEP TAKEN BY CHINA

Emperor Issues an Edict Promising Constitutional Liberty

But It Is Not to Come Until the People Are Fitted for It—Admits That the Chinese System Is Antiquated.

Peking, September 2.—The emperor has issued an edict promising constitutional government when the people are fitted for it. The edict says:

"Since the beginning of our dynasty there have been wise emperors who have made laws suited to the times. Now that China has intercourse with all nations our laws and political system have become antiquated, and our country is always in trouble. Therefore, it is necessary for us to gather more knowledge and draw up a new code of laws, otherwise we shall be unworthy of the trust of our forefathers and the people."

The edict cites the fact that traveling commissioners report that the cause of China's weakness is antagonism between the rulers and the ruled, and promises administrative and financial reforms. When these are accomplished and the people have been educated to understand their relations to the government, a constitution will be framed. The time for putting this into effect, the edict says, will depend upon the rapidity of the nation's progress toward enlightenment.

Miss Julia Francis Groves.
Marietta, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Miss Julia Francis Groves died at a private sanitarium in Atlanta, Sunday morning after a short illness. Miss Groves was born and spent the greater portion of her life here, although at the time of her death she was a resident of Atlanta. Besides a large number of relatives in Marietta, Miss Groves leaves a host of friends to mourn her death. The funeral and interment will take place here at a time to be announced later.

Cuba Buying Arms.
New York, September 2.—The Cuban government transport Meria Herrera, which arrived today from Havana, will load six million rounds of ammunition, a battery of rapid fire guns and other munitions of war to be employed in suppression of the rebellion.

MANY DELEGATES HAVE ARRIVED

Post Office Clerk's Convention Will Convene at Savannah.

From Portland, Maine, to San Francisco Delegates Come — Postmaster Blunn and Staff Are According the Visitors a Royal Welcome.

Savannah, Ga., September 2.—The seventh annual national convention of the United National Association of Postoffice Clerks of the United States convenes in Savannah tomorrow morning in the postoffice building. It will be called to order by H. A. Buttimer, chairman of the convention committee.

Delegates and visitors from all parts of the union poured into the city in a constant stream today, every train bringing in large numbers. About the first delegation to reach the city was from Chicago. They arrived about twenty-five strong. The party from Philadelphia, Boston, Portland, Me., and other eastern points reached the city on the steamer yesterday. There were about forty delegates in this party. The California delegates, James Power and Daniel B. Dwyer, of San Francisco, were accorded an unusually hearty welcome.

Postmaster Henry Blunn, Jr., and a number of the clerks of the local office met themselves into committees and met every incoming train, welcomed the guests and escorted them to their hotels.

Optimistic.
(From The Chicago Tribune.)
Mrs. Ardup—Orrville, how can you be so hilarious when all the rest of us are so gloomy about the heat? We know the mercury can't go any higher without lifting the mortgage off the house.

Disliked the Word.
(From The Philadelphia Ledger.)
"Then," said the reporter, "I'll say several pretty songs were rendered by Miss Finkham."
"Oh!" replied the hostess, "you mustn't say 'rendered.' You see her father made all his money in 'lard.'"

GIGANTIC DEAL CAUSED SMASH

Suicide of President Was Not Alone Responsible.

Much Attention Has Been Devoted to the Liabilities of the Defunct Trust Company Which May Lead to the Arrest of Several Directors.

Philadelphia, September 2.—"From the evidence in my possession the collapse of the Real Estate Trust Company appears to be the result of stupendous looting. I intend to proceed to the limit against the persons liable." This statement was made tonight by District Attorney Bell after a day spent in examining the evidence handed to him yesterday by Receiver Earle, of the defunct trust company. That Frank K. Hipple, the suicide president of the institution, was not alone responsible for the crash both Receiver Earle and District Attorney Bell are satisfied, and arrests may be looked for at any time.

The bank's officers alone may not bear the burden of responsibility. The receiver and the district attorney have devoted much time to the question of the liability of the directors, and developments today indicate that at least two of them may be called upon for an explanation of their conduct in certifying to the correctness of bank statements which have since proved to be false.

TERRIBLE STORM HAS SUBSIDED

Great Loss of Crops and Cattle Has Been Reported.

Mexico City, September 2.—The terrible storm which swept over the Pacific coast of the republic for nearly three weeks has ended, after having occasioned immense damage throughout an extensive region. The port of Manzanillo is, after many days of isolation, again in communication with the rest of the country. Telegraph lines were prostrated and for a long distance not a single post was left in its place.

In the state of Sinaloa and the territory of Tepic, great injury was done to farms and great loss of crops and cattle is reported.

Some of the machines employed on the port work at Manzanillo were destroyed or rendered useless. Many houses occupied by poor people and situated near the sea, were ruined.

The overland trail from Tuxpan to Colima is impassable in places and extremely dangerous in others. Five miles of a pack trail crossing the trail were cut off by a torrent of water in the bottom of the Beltran Arroyo and downed. Several travelers had narrow escapes from death.

In the city of Colima, several houses have fallen as the result of heavy rains. No loss of life has been reported.

PARKER SHIES AT WALSH LETTER

Judge Says That He Is Out of Politics.

Parker, However, Does Say That Letter Looks Very Much as If the Hearst League Had Gained Another Recruit.

Alexandria, Minn., September 2.—Alton B. Parker came here Saturday from St. Paul to spend Sunday. When the letter written by Charles A. Walsh to Chairman Taggart, of the democratic national committee, in which Walsh tendered his resignation as a member of the committee, was handed to him today, Judge Parker read it carefully and asked:

"What do you think is the meaning of that letter?"
"Is not it possible to construe Walsh's meaning to be that if Bryan becomes the nominee under the democratic standard he will be 'slavishly subservient to the individual to corrupt corporations and boss control?'" Parker was asked.

"Well," replied he, "you might put such construction on what he said in the letter if you wished to do so, but I hardly feel that I want to dignify Mr. Walsh's letter by construing it or making a formal statement. Really, at this time it hardly seems worth while."

"What is there in that letter anyway? What is Walsh trying to convey?"
"I'm out of politics and under those circumstances all I care to say is this: It looks very much as if the Hearst Independence League has won another recruit in the person of Walsh. He has been enthusiastic as a supporter of Hearst for a number of years, and will make a valuable addition to Hearst's party. He has apparently preferred instead of giving his reason for joining the Hearst party, to assign some reasons for leaving the democratic party. Whether his reason has any justification in fact or not, is of no consequence, as he has made up his mind to go."

With Meaning.
(From Pele Mele.)
A few words may carry a world of meaning, as the following story shows. A young lady was gambling with the mines that other men had opened. Amid a whirlwind of speculation he fought his way with such success that he loomed from the smoke in a few moments as "Lucky" Baldwin, the man who had cleaned up seven and a half million dollars in the gigantic deals in the stock of the Opal mines.

Warsaw, September 2.—General Tuminoff, commander of a brigade at the garrison here, was wounded today, but not seriously, by five revolutionists, who fired upon him with revolvers as he was leaving his residence. General Tuminoff participated in the recent pacification of the Baltic provinces, serving under General Orloff, governor general of Livonia.

Savannah, Ga., September 2.—(Special.) Dr. J. C. Dr. Stohart saw a small negro urchin in the roadway, who had become confused by the approaching machine, and realizing that quick action was necessary to keep from killing the boy, he swerved the machine, which ran over the bluff, about 12 feet high. Dr. Stohart and Mr. Dunbar escaped with bruises, although the machine was badly smashed.

POLITICAL WAR FIERCE IN MAINE

Final Week of the Campaign Begins Today.

Rallies Will Be Held Every Night. Speaker Cannon and Secretary Taft Are in the Thick of the Fighting.

Portland, Me., September 2.—The final week of the Maine political campaign begins tomorrow, and will be one of the busiest and most important in the history of Maine politics. Rallies will be held every night in some part of the state, and the finishing touches will be made to the plans for the election day fight, one week from tomorrow, when a governor, four congressmen, state senators and representatives and county officers will be elected.

Speakers of the week include Joseph C. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, who is assigned to address a rally every evening, also Monday, Tuesday and Friday afternoons; Secretary of War William H. Taft, Senators Henry C. Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Eugene Hale, of Maine.

The Story of "Lucky" Baldwin.

(From The Outing Magazine.)
In 1883, or more than half a century ago, a little party of gold-seekers, with a meager outfit of horses and wagons, started for California from the village of Racine, Wis. In command of this adventurous expedition was a young man who took with him his wife and infant daughter. The party reached the mountains of Utah the pioneers were attacked by Indians, who were bent on murdering a six-hour fight, in which young Baldwin killed their chief. After six months of hardship the party reached Hangtown (later called Placerville) in California.

Baldwin tarried and began placer mining. He appears to have been no more than an ordinary red-shirted argonaut, meeting the ups and downs of mining luck, until the discovery of the Comstock Lode at Virginia City. Thither he drifted, and discovered that his natural bent was gambling with the mines that other men had opened. Amid a whirlwind of speculation he fought his way with such success that he loomed from the smoke in a few moments as "Lucky" Baldwin, the man who had cleaned up seven and a half million dollars in the gigantic deals in the stock of the Opal mines.

President Palma at Last Decides to Fight the Insurgents.

WAR PREPARATIONS UNCEASING IN HAVANA

Government Has $19,000,000 in Cash, and Says It Will Be Spent Liberally in Crushing the Rebellion.

Havana, September 2.—The hopes of those who on Saturday night tentatively suggested a project of mutual concessions as a means of ending the rebellion were shattered today when President Palma called General Cebreco, one of the proposed peace commissioners, to the palace to inform him that the government had no concessions to offer or accept and no intention other than fighting the matter through and suppressing the insurrection. General Menocal, who headed the list of the proposed commissioners, sent word to the promoters of the project that he would have nothing to do with it unless he could approach the insurgents with a definite offer of some kind from President Palma. The promoters, however, are not entirely discouraged, and another meeting may be held later.

Government Has Money.
One of the main reasons why the government feels encouraged to pursue the fight to the end by force is, as outlined by Font Sterling, secretary of the treasury, its abundance of money.

"We have $19,000,000 on hand," said the secretary of the treasury. "Don't overlook that. And we have a monthly income of $2,000,000. The August receipts and customs duties were greater than ever before. We will not need to negotiate loans for some time to come, at least. Yes, most of what we have been appropriated by congress, but those appropriations must wait. We shall use the money in putting down the rebellion."

The number of daily enlistments is not known, as the work is being carried on in so many different places, but the expectation is to have 8,000 men in the field, inclusive of regulars and volunteers.

Business Interests Menaced.
What is beginning to disturb business interests more than anything else is the increasing evidence that tobacco planting, sugar cultivation and crop plantations will begin so late as to be ruinous to the coming winter's crop. The planters see no prospect either of getting money for developing the crops. Much money is coming to the Havana banks from the provinces since reports have been published of the looting by the insurgents of town treasuries.

War preparations in Havana are unceasing. A machine gun corps this afternoon left Castillo de Lapunta and four companies are stationed, one at La Puerta castle, in front of the palace, two at the arsenal and one at the Vedado shore front.

There was no cheering whatever as a corps commanded by Americans marched through the streets. The men are not yet drilled or disciplined.

The Sunday night gaiety of Havana is unabated and the light-heartedness of the people is the same tonight as always. Up to tonight no new fights between government forces and insurgents have been reported.

He Couldn't Catch the Rebels.

San Juan, de Maricao, Cuba, September 2.—Colonel Avalos' command, in returning here for the reasons, as given by the colonel, that he has received no orders from General Rodriguez, that provisions at Guanace were running low, and the same conditions would obtain if he occupied other small towns, and that Pino Guerra does not want to fight anyway, and can readily avoid government forces. The non-receipt of orders may be explainable by the robbery of mail sacks, which is known to have occurred between here and Guanace. Guerra's force is mostly camped at Mantua.

Three rural guards and a sergeant have been arrested at Guanace, and will be sent to Havana, charged with treason and conspiracy to kill Lieutenant Alvarez, commander at Guanace, previous to the arrival of the main body, and blew up the town hall and deliver the town to the insurgents.

Hundreds of Guerra's men have been seen the past two days to the eastward of Pinar del Rio City, and it is believed a mobilization of insurgent recruits in this section is in progress.

ROW MAY OCCUR OVER INCREASE OF CITY POLICE

Civil Service Dispute is Injected Into Movement by Alderman Key.

COUNCIL MAY VOTE DOWN AMENDMENT BY ALDERMAN

If Civil Service is Ignored the Mayor May Use His Veto Power—History of Civil Service Row in Police Department.

If the action of the finance committee is endorsed by the city council when it meets Tuesday, Atlanta will soon have forty more policemen. The finance committee has made a favorable report to the council for the appropriation of $8,400 to pay the salaries of forty policemen for the balance of this year. The money will be taken from the contingent fund.

An amendment, offered by Alderman Key, of the finance committee, will probably cause some trouble over the appropriation, and council may be called on to vote upon that amendment before the appropriation is made. The amendment proposed that the forty new policemen shall be elected under civil service rules. This brings up an old row, and one that has been a bone of contention in the police department for nearly a year. As council will have to act on the matter before the money is given for the new policemen, a history of the civil service row will be of some interest.

That Civil Service Row.
The city's charter was amended so as to give the police board the power to institute civil service at the next general election in April, 1907, or sooner, provided all the members of the police force resigned, so they could be reelected under civil service. About 25 members of the force declined to resign, and the rest did resign several months ago. The city attorney gave an opinion in which he held that the twenty-five men failing to resign blocked civil service until next April. Just prior to the 25th board meeting last March a sudden and unexpected meeting was held at which it was declared that the police board was under civil service, and all the men who had resigned were reelected. The riot call was rung at fire headquarters to get the policemen to the barracks. The city council held a meeting and declared that the action of the police board was illegal and of no effect. Then the new police board took charge, and four members announced that they would not recognize the alleged civil service, while the other four, who had been members of the old board, declared that civil service did exist in the department. Since then a captain has been elected, and not under civil service, fourteen supernumeraries have been appointed, not under civil service, and the chief has promoted a number of superes to the regular force without following the civil service rules.

What Will Be the Result?
In an emergency, for the promotion of good order and peace in the city, the finance committee of the council has seen fit to make an extra appropriation for forty more policemen, and Alderman Key has brought up the civil service proposition. Those who claim to be for civil service, and those who claim to be for the old board, will kill Alderman Key's amendment, and then make the appropriation. If this is done, what will the mayor do? He is one of the four members of the police board who contend that the department is under civil service. Will he veto the action of council?

A committee of thirty citizens, appointed at a meeting, will appear before council to urge the appropriation for more policemen, and many of them say they hope the civil service row will not wreck the movement.

If the appropriation is made, the police board will probably hold an early meeting to select the forty new policemen.

BRYAN STARTS ON HOME STRETCH

We Leaves on a Special Train for Lincoln, Nebr.

Bryan Is Escorted by More Than a Hundred of His "Home Folks."
Mr. Bryan Talks of His Reception in the East.

New York, September 2.—Escorted by the Nebraska "home folks" more than a hundred strong, William J. Bryan started on the home stretch of his progress round the world in a special train of five cars, which left Jersey City over the Lehigh Valley railroad at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. There was no demonstration at the station, but many passengers in the waiting room introduced themselves to Mr. Bryan and shook hands with him. The special is expected to reach Detroit tomorrow morning, and after a day and night reception will start at midnight for Chicago, where another reception will be held Tuesday. The train is scheduled to reach Lincoln, Neb., on Wednesday, when a rousing reception is promised by Mayor Brown, who headed the delegation of Nebraskans.

Mr. Bryan Talks.
On the way over the river in the ferry boat, Mr. Bryan, smiling, said in the course of an interview:
"Speaking from a personal standpoint, the receptions accorded to me were very gratifying. Speaking from a political standpoint, I think that they showed a marked change in public sentiment along the lines of economic questions, especially those questions relating to the trust issues. The one unpleasant feature about the receptions is that I have been so busy speaking, and going from place to place that I have not had time to shake hands with all those who had come great distances."

The reception which my neighbors at home are preparing will be a gratifying one, but it can hardly be more cordial than have been my receptions in the east."
Referring to the reported disagreement with prominent democrats on his advocacy of public ownership of railroads, Mr. Bryan said:
"I have seen it stated that prominent men have protested against the doctrine, but until the prominent men give their names the objections cannot have any influence. I have not talked with any one who had any protest to make, but I have discussed the matter both before and after my speech with men who have agreed with me. I have talked the matter over for two years or more."

Bryan Coming South.
Mr. Bryan said that he was to speak in St. Louis, on September 11; Louisville, September 12; Cincinnati, September 13; Radford, Va., September 15. He is also to make two speeches in North Carolina, two in Alabama and Tennessee, but dates have not yet been set. He will give his time and voice to the congressional campaign in October. Mr. Bryan spent a comparatively quiet Sunday mostly at the Victoria hotel, where he received a number of visitors who called for a short chat and a good-bye handshake. Early in the afternoon, Borough President Bird S. Coler arrived in an automobile and took Mr. and Mrs. Bryan over to his home in Brooklyn for luncheon. Among those who called on Mr. Bryan during the day were:
Ex-Governor Benton McMillan, of Tennessee; Congressman Ollie James, of Kentucky; John W. Tompkins, of Alabama; Rufus S. Rhodes, of Alabama; F. A. Hood, of Chattanooga; Urry Woodson, national committeeman from Kentucky; Congressman William Sulzer and Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Mack.

No Acting There.
"Well, well," exclaimed Mrs. Goodart, "you certainly do act as if you were hungry."
"Act?" grunted Hungry Higgins, between sobs. "Yes, lady, don't you know the difference between actin' and de realin'?"

A Criticism.
Kloesman—I gave you one of these cigars the other day, didn't I?
Wiseman—Yes, I remember it very well. Kloesman—How would you like to have one now?
Wiseman—Billed, I guess. They don't seem quite wholesome raw.

AN IDEAL WOMAN WAS APPOINTED

Will Aid in the Movement for Better School Conditions.

Montgomery, Ala., September 2.—(Special.)—State Superintendent of Education I. W. Hill announces the appointment of Latonia Burns, of Montgomery, to aid in the movement for better school conditions in the state. She is to have headquarters in the office of the education department and cooperate with the committee on school improvement of the Woman's Federation of Alabama. Her salary will be paid out of a fund set aside for that purpose by the Peabody board.

This movement embraces everything that will better and make more attractive school days. It looks to better school houses in the first place, and then a number of improvements that will add to the efficiency of the schools. The committee of the Woman's Federation has done a large amount of work and has given much of the credit for the sentiment that has been built up in this connection.

"Miss Burns," said Chief Clerk H. C. Gunnels, "is an ideal woman for the work. She is in sympathy with it and one of the best first grade teachers of the state. In addition to her school improvement work, she will attend institutes and deliver lectures on various features of school service."

The committee on school improvement of the Woman's Federation, which has done so much good work, is made up as follows: Chairman, Mrs. J. D. Matlock, Birmingham; Mrs. E. D. Thomas, Greenville; Mrs. Greenwood Ligon, Mobile; Mrs. Erwin, Craighood, Mobile; Mrs. R. E. Niel, Selma.

Governor Jinks Expected Back.
Governor William D. Jinks, who went to New York to receive Mr. Bryan home, is expected back early next week, probably Monday. He will be accompanied by Representative in the Legislature O. C. Maner, Bruce Kennedy, of the Montgomery Advertiser, and the rest of the Montgomery party.

Dr. Shirley Bragg, head of the state board of convict inspectors, who is in New York for his health, is reported as doing very well. He will be home in a short while. During his absence Associate Commissioner M. W. Camper is in the office most of the time.

The negroes escaped, but are pursued by posies, who are determined on lynching the blacks.

MRS. LESTER'S FUNERAL.

The Interment Occurred in the Family
Lot at Covington.

Covington, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—The remains of Mrs. Henrietta Meriwether Lester, whose death occurred at Wesley Memorial hospital in Atlanta, Saturday, were brought to this city for burial Sunday.

The deceased was the wife of Colonel James G. Lester, assistant cashier of the Maddox-Rucker Banking Company, of Atlanta. She was the daughter of the late Judge T. M. Meriwether and a granddaughter of Bishop J. O. A. Andrews, of the Methodist Episcopal church. Besides her husband, she is survived by three children—Paul, Annie Mae and Eugene.

Mrs. Lester had been in feeble health for several years, but her condition did not become critical until a few months ago. She was a member of the Methodist church and an enthusiastic missionary worker.

The funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church here Sunday by Rev. R. C. Cleckler, of Covington, and Dr. J. H. Eakes, of Atlanta. The interment was in Westview cemetery.

Sometime ago they purchased for colonization purposes a large tract of land in the state of Mexico and another in the state of Oaxaca and within the last few days have closed a deal for 300,000 acres of rich land in the Puente valley, of the state of Sinaloa. It is said to be the plan to send 12,000 Mormon families from Utah, Colorado and other states to the new land.

Dr. C. C. Greene, a prominent physician of Atlanta, is desperately ill at his residence, 352 Whitehall street, and is not expected to live through the night. Drs. Willis Westmoreland, Brannan, Nicholson and Cromer are attending the sick man and yesterday these physicians gave up all hope for his recovery.

Dr. Greene has been a sufferer for ten years, but during that time has attended to his practice. However in the past few months he has visited his office in the Austell building only two or three times, as he fell and fractured his hip during the storm last June, and this incapacitated him for work. Since then he has remained at his home for the greater part of the time.

It was only in the past forty-eight hours that the critical illness seized him. It was caused by the old injury together with stomach trouble and other complications.

CUBAN AFFAIRS WORRY VILATE

Atlanta Cuban Says Future for His Country is Dark.

Jose E. Vilate, a Cuban, who is an instructor in tailoring at the Morris Brown college for negroes, talks interestingly of the present disturbances in Cuba, and from what he has to say on the subject Vilate seems to be well versed in the affairs on the island.

In his own manner the Cuban expatiates in this way: "In view of the revolution in Cuba, I am very uneasy about this matter. What good does it do? Not anything but kill one another. I have been here four years reading of the prosperity of my country, but since a few months I am observing what is going on there, combats, struggles and disturbances. In this case emergency should demand my aid, but diplomatically or politically."

"Progress of nations indicates that war should be ended without a single drop of blood, but if there is some hindrance to verify this fact we should proceed. The revolution intends to involve Cuba into a great conflict. Conflict of which I lose hope in my country. Danger is its future condition. The continuance of this revolution there is nothing but pessimism and individualism. In fact, terms have been proposed to President Palma, and they have been replied to despotically. There is no satisfaction in anything but to call on the army, find a house on fire and put petroleum over it. So it means fight, and fight is my subject. But with my countryman, Palma, your system does not operate right. Your agreement on that petition would bring peace and harmony without bloodshed. Emergency would not call President Palma for revolution among the natives, but pessimism and fraud. Cuba in her last report showed advancement in agriculture, industry and commerce, but today shows decrease among the natives on all sides.

"In another hand I don't care to say anything more concerning this matter, but want peace to the country, and that is my motto. Remember grand Antonio Maceo and other patriots who succumbed to a doom for liberty. And when it appeared that all these men were dead, hence they are still dead, but living in our memory and in the hearts of all good citizens. Therefore, we cannot let Cuba sink into destruction. Particularly for the sake of malinche, who is the cause of this struggle.

"Now if the Cubans had enjoyed peace and prosperity long ago, I hope today we should continue to enjoy the same."

BLIND TIGERS AT FITZGERALD

Many Breakers of the Law
Are Being Tried in the Courts.

Fitzgerald, Ga., September 2.—The trial of the men arrested on the charge of running a blind tiger was commenced yesterday, and consumed the greater part of the day, as the case of L. W. Howe has not yet been commenced. Mr. Howe has been a resident of this place almost ever since the town started, and was the senior partner in the firm of Howe & Lewis, which went out of business about three years ago. He never has been considered a drinking man, and has repeatedly voted the prohibition ticket here, and was one of the supporters of the $20,000 license bill.

Immediately after this bill had passed the senate all the saloon men closed up with the exception of Stony Glover, who maintained that as the governor had not signed the bill it was not yet a law, and accordingly he opened his saloon as usual. He was arrested at once, but for some reason his prosecutors have failed to follow the matter up, and the case never has been tried. Glover, however, objects to remaining longer in statu quo, and is earnestly demanding trial, asserting that he had a right to run his saloon under existing circumstances. It is stated today that this matter will be in court Monday, and it is likely that it will be the test case, will open up a long string of litigations.

THE report that the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic will extend their line by building from Birmingham to New Orleans, as exclusively printed in The Constitution, was the chief topic of conversation at the Transportation Club and in railroad circles generally yesterday. While there have been rumors to this effect for some time, the fact that a preliminary survey has been completed from the Alabama metropolis to the Gulf metropolis of Louisiana, is proof positive in the minds of a large majority of the railroad officials of this city that there is now no doubt but that the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic will make this extension.

While the preliminary survey has been made, it was stated yesterday by those in a position to know that men employed by this enterprising new system, which is generally known as the Atkinson road, are making a tour of the territory between Birmingham and New Orleans along the line of the preliminary survey. These men are securing detailed information as to the natural resources of this fertile territory and it is expected that their reports will be placed before a meeting of the directors of the road which is to be held in the very near future.

It is generally expected that this report will astonish even those who have made a study of the rich resources of the south and who are familiar with the powerful opportunities offered for the development of this section. These employees of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic have been working very quietly in the securing of this information which is soon to be placed before the directors of the road. It is reported that the directors have been made to keep this information of extending the line from the public because of the certainty of advances in values the moment it was understood that a large corporation was a possible if not a probable purchaser.

As yet, the exact line of the preliminary survey is not known, but it is generally conceded that both Selma and Meridian are to be included among the cities which will be on the new road. It is also reported that options have been secured at certain places along the line where the property is particularly valuable. And there is much of just this sort of property.

In the first place, the new road is expected to go through some of the most valuable and richest sections of the coal and iron fields of Alabama. It is also expected to make its way through some of the richest sections of the east when it is found anywhere. Then the extension is expected to pass through some of the finest agricultural and cotton sections of the cotton belt of the south, much of this territory being now without any railroad facilities whatever.

Wherever this matter of the extension of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic was discussed yesterday, it was conceded that the completion of the proposed road bisecting the entire great southern territory, will provide a great advantage to the entire south. With an Atlantic port at one terminus and a Gulf port at the other, its advantages are too apparent for either comment or explanation. From the developments and the construction of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic under way, it is certain that the policy of the Atkinson interests calls for the building of a first class road and roadbed such as means a credit to the south.

How Atlanta Will Profit.

With the general offices of this big system in Atlanta, the logical center of the road, Atlanta will benefit in many ways by the increased size of the road. More than ever it will make the Gate City of the South the great railroad center of Dixie and the finest shipping and distributing center of this section of the country with facilities and advantages not to be found in any other inland city. It will also give Atlanta another line in making her the natural center for the shipping of freight to the east when the great Panama canal is opened. This advantage was dwelt on by railroad officials yesterday as being a matter of the greatest importance.

It was also generally conceded that some excellent understanding had been reached between the Seaboard Air Line and the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic in regard to the new extension. The present relationship between these two roads is of a very cordial and intimate nature, both traffic and transportation-wise, as well as in the personnel of the two directorates. Right here in Atlanta the big Gate City terminals will offer the very best facilities for the receiving and shipping of freight on both lines.

This opening to the Seaboard of an entrance into New Orleans means the realization of an ambition of many years' standing, according to all Atlanta officials. Especially since there has been such a rush on the part of the big southern systems for Gulf ports looking to the opening of the big Panama canal has this been true.

It was also pointed out that with the tremendous increase in traffic which is sure to develop with the opening of the Panama canal, the Seaboard having through arrangements with New Orleans, the present position of their general offices at Portsmouth will be even more difficult and unsuitable than at present. Since the extension of the Seaboard interests both south and west, this matter of having the general offices at the far end of the system means much delay, poor facilities for the handling of the work and disadvantages which are certain to be corrected before a great while.

As the system now stands, Atlanta is the logical center, and recognized to be the best city for the road for the location of general offices and the handling of the immense amount of business being transacted. With these general offices arranged for the handling of business through to New Orleans, this logical position of Atlanta will be even more true, and it was stated by officials yesterday that these Seaboard general offices were sure to find their home in Atlanta before a great while.

Again and again reports have been current that the Southern railroad, which also suffers delay and inconvenience in the transaction of its tremendous amount of business because of the present location of its offices at the eastern terminus of their system, will make Atlanta the home of these general offices. Like the Seaboard, the Southern has extended their lines and purchased other roads, until now it has a network of some seven or eight thousand miles of track in the south, and the delay of sending in all reports to Washington grows constantly.

Officials also stated yesterday that the centering of these general offices of the big systems of the south in Atlanta would have many advantages. With these general offices in one city, the tremendous interchange of business between the big systems and the interchange of reports incidental to such business would be greatly facilitated by having the general offices so near neighbors. With these general offices in one city, the tremendous interchange of business between the big systems and the interchange of reports incidental to such business would be greatly facilitated by having the general offices so near neighbors.

All of which points indisputably to the fact that the Greater Atlanta of the immediate future will be a metropolis, railroad center, shipping center and distributing center of the south far beyond even the highest hopes of the most enthusiastic Atlanta idealists at present.

Railroad Notes.

A number of the passenger officials of the Atlanta railroad world will leave for Chicago today to attend the regular meeting of the conference committee of the Southeastern Passenger Association, which is expected to be an exceptionally important one. This is the first meeting of the committee since the new rate bill was passed last year.

While the meeting occurs Tuesday in the Windy City, Chairman Joseph Richardson, of the Southeastern Passenger Association, and Secretary Howard left yesterday. Several other Atlantans accompanied them, and others will leave today.

LOCAL COURTS RESUME WORKRegular Fall Term Will Start This Morning.*Little Work Will Be Accomplished Today, All the Courts With the Exception of the Superior Court Observing Labor Day.

Today marks the beginning of the September term of the superior court of Fulton county, the Atlanta criminal court and the city court of Atlanta.

All of these, with the exception of the superior court, will observe Labor day as a holiday, not convening until Tuesday morning. Judge Pendleton will, however, organize and charge the grand jury at 9 o'clock this morning, after which the jury will adjourn to Tuesday morning. Immediately after charging the jury, Judge Pendleton will resume the hearing of the injunction case brought by certain members of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church of Atlanta against Rev. George H. Meek and other members of that church to restrain and enjoin them from transferring the church property and membership to the Presbyterian church of the United States of America.

The hearing commenced on Friday morning, and will probably be concluded today, the hearing of the injunction sought will be granted by the court unless the defendants, the pastor and those favoring the transfer of property to and union with the Presbyterian church of the United States, affirmatively show that the organic law of the Cumberland church authorizes such action, the burden of proof being shifted from the petitioners in the case to the defendants.

After receiving the charge of the court this morning, the grand jury will elect its foreman and secretary, after which it will adjourn until Tuesday morning, at which time it will commence the consideration of criminal business. Solicitor General Charles D. Hill having prepared about 100 bills of indictment. These are for minor felonies, chiefly, but there are a number of murder cases—some four or five—charged against negroes.

Among the important matters to be considered by the grand jury is the election of a successor to the unexpected term of the late Justice of Peace Walter E. Ormond, whose tragic death some six weeks ago, while en route from Savannah to New York, left a vacancy in the office of the grand jury as drawn from the box, is composed of the following gentlemen: Clark Howell, Jr., John Temple Graves, W. R. P. Whittier, Colonel A. J. West, Henry A. Inman, J. R. Nutting, John M. Green, Fred J. Paxon, James M. Cooper, John K. Otley, Ernest Woodruff, Albert Steiner, George E. King, M. R. Emmons, W. H. Kiser, William J. Davis, Alonzo Richardson, Dumps Perkinson, S. C. Huff, Lewis H. Beck, J. M. Baker, B. M. Brown, George H. Byrd, Benjamin T. Boyd, Edwin Kingberry, Joseph Thompson, H. L. Haralson, Wilmer L. Moore, Frank Hawkins and Roby Robinson.

It is known that Hon. Clark Howell, Hon. John Temple Graves and Roby Robinson are absent from the city and will not serve, this eliminating three names among those which will probably be proposed for their fellow jurors for the position of foreman.

Judge H. M. Rekl will convene the September term of the first division of the city court on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. A jury will be in attendance and the trial of cases will not commence that day. An enormous number of cases are docketed, the great bulk of those newly filed consisting of damage suits filed against the Atlanta and West Point railroad and the Central of Georgia Railroad. Some of the cases are of considerable importance, the most notable being the wreck of the ill-fated picnic train, which the Central railroad passenger train telegraphed on the evening of June 6 last, at the West Fair street crossing. Others of these suits were filed in the superior court, and some will be heard before Judge Andy Calhoun in the second division of the city court.

Judge Andy Calhoun will convene the regular monthly session of the Atlanta criminal court on Tuesday. The usual number of misdemeanor cases stand for trial—about 100 in number—about one-third of the defendants being in jail, the remainder being out on bond. As soon as the criminal cases are disposed of, Judge Calhoun will commence the trial of civil cases in the second division of the city court.

Judge Roan will not convene the criminal division of the superior court of Fulton county until the third Monday in October, that being the first Monday after the first of the month.

Nearly one hundred indictments will have been added by that time to the cases carried over from the last term of court.

Indications point to the fact that when the board of county commissioners holds its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, it will have 200 applicants for the newly created offices, twenty-four members of the county police force.

All kinds, characters and conditions of men are represented in the 143 applications now on file with Clerk Henry M. Wood, one of whose excellent timbers is comprised in this lot.

The county officials have not been without their troubles in connection with this determined increase of the police force. Sheriff Nelms was the first man in the county to take decided action, looking toward the better protection of the white women of Fulton county, and his interview with a Constitution reporter, published one week ago last Saturday, was of course, a very important feature of the measures adopted by the board of commissioners at their special meeting held Saturday afternoon a week ago. Since that time Mr. Nelms' office has presented the appearance of the main entrance to a circus tent. A strong line of men, some of whom have open into his office from opposite sides, and the incoming squeeze of the outsiders, all bent on the same mission—indorsement by the sheriff for election to the county police force.

Many people have questioned the truthfulness of the statement that the brain can be really nourished and built up from some particular kind of food.

Experience is better than any kind of theory.

The wife of a prominent legislator in Kentucky says: "A woman of my acquaintance was in a badly run down condition at the time she became a mother, and at three months of age the child was a mite of humanity pitiful to look upon, with no more brain development than a monkey."

"About the time I speak of when the child was three months old the mother began feeding him Grape-Nuts."

"In ten days it was plain that a change was taking place and in a few weeks the boy became rosy, healthy and rounded out."

"He is now five years old and his food this entire time has been Grape-Nuts and cream. He seldom ever takes any other kind of food."

"It is a splendid illustration of the fact that selected food can produce results, for this boy is perfectly formed, has a beautiful body and arms and legs of a young athlete, while his head and brain development appears perfect, and he is as bright and intelligent as can be."

Saturday night, at Harry Silverman's there was an informal gathering in honor of Eric Foss, who, since January last, has been stationed at the Atlanta Steel Hoop Company works to superintend the erection of their steel rolling plant.

Employees of the company had a surprise in store for Mr. Foss, whose genial personality and capability has made a friend of every employee. Mr. Foss was presented a diamond-studded gold locket, bearing this inscription: "Presented to Eric Foss by the employees of the Atlanta Steel Hoop Company."

Last night Mr. Foss was the guest of honor of his former fellow workmen and his friends at a banquet at the Aragon hotel. Many toasts were proposed for the guest of honor.

TEN MEN SEEK POLICE BOARD J. P. POSITION MAY MEET SOONGrand Jury Will Elect Successor to Walter Ormond.

The grand jury will hold an election some day this week to fill the expired term of the late Justice Walter T. Ormond. As today is Labor day the grand jury will probably not transact any business beyond formally organizing, and the election of a justice of the peace will be deferred until some day later.

There are ten candidates. There may be more, but if there are The Constitution did not secure their names.

The ten who were secured from members of the grand jury who had been "approached" are:

C. W. Seidell, M. B. Torbett, Arthur Thurman, Lowndes Calhoun, Jr., Fred M. Powers, John T. Morgan, Harvey Wells, B. W. Wall, J. J. Meador, C. S. Kingsberry.

There are thirty members of the grand jury and it will take sixteen votes to elect.

All the candidates are pulling for the plum and the friends of each are lending a helping hand. They all say that they believe they will win out.

On account of the large number of candidates and their prominence the race is creating considerable interest.

WEEVILS DESTROY GEORGIA COTTON

Lowndes County Farmers are Greatly Alarmed.

Cotton Bolls Eaten by Insect Similar to the Mexican Weevil—Some of the Weevils Have Been Sent to State Entomologist for Examination.

Valdosta, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—The farmers of this county are considerably alarmed over the appearance in a number of fields here of a cotton pest similar to the Mexican boll weevil. In fact, some well informed farmers are satisfied that it is the Mexican weevil. T. E. Goodwin, who lives just north of the city, brought a stalk of cotton to town today, on which nearly every boll and square had been gnawed by the pest. An examination disclosed that, without exception, every dead boll had been bored into by a worm or weevil of some kind, and several of the larger bolls were full of a small black weevil. The insect is about the size of the ordinary grain weevil, and looks very much like it.

The cotton bolls are attacked at any stage of their growth, most of them being killed before or just after the bloom has fallen off. The more mature bolls remain green for some time after being punctured, but soon fill with weevils, which feed on the contents, and in a short while die.

In one field of cotton which Mr. Goodwin expected to make six bales, he is now satisfied he will not make more than a bale, owing to the ravages of the weevil. Neighbors of his are suffering in a like manner.

Some of the weevils will be sent to the state entomologist for identification, and his advice asked as to the best method to fight the pest.

TO HAVE SEPARATE STATIONS.

That Seems To Be Determination of Railroad at Valdosta.

Valdosta, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—The union passenger station proposition was discussed at a large meeting of citizens and railroad men in this city yesterday, and as a result of the meeting it is likely that both the Atlantic Coast Line and the Georgia Southern road will build separate stations. The citizens were strongly in favor of a union station, provided they preferred separate depots near the business section. The proposition by the roads was to erect a union station at the junction of the Atlantic Coast Line and the Georgia Southern and Florida, about a half mile from the business portion of town. Mr. J. H. Calhoun, who was in charge of the latter line, stated that he was willing to do what he could in that direction if the people wanted it, and it was understood that the Atlantic Coast Line would also be willing to go into the building of the station. The present stations are located centrally, and both railroads have plans drawn for new passenger stations, with the intention of building at once. The meeting is regarded as settling the matter, and it is likely that work will begin on the depots at an early date. The passenger business of the roads here long since outgrew their facilities, and it is understood that very large and handsome stations will be built.

SHERIDAN LOST TO UNCLE SAM

Transport Is Still Hard and Fast on Rocks.

All Efforts to Pull the Vessel Off
Have Failed, and It Is Believed That She Will Be a Total Loss.

Honolulu, September 2.—Efforts to pull the transport Sheridan off the rocks have been abandoned and it is now believed the vessel will be a total loss. The persons aboard the Sheridan spent the night in darkness, the lighting machinery being disabled. It is reported that there is now water in the vessel above the fire rooms. The transport appears to be pierced amidship by the rock on which she hangs.

Inter-island steamers are now recovering cargo from the Sheridan's hold. It is planned to anchor the Sheridan and cable for further assistance.

ALABAMA JUDGE TALKS ON BRYAN

Thinks Government Ownership of Railroads Impracticable.

Huntsville, Ala., September 2.—(Special.)—In reply to a request for an expression of his views on William J. Bryan's speech in New York city, Judge William Richardson, congressman from the eighth Alabama district, last night wired The New York Herald as follows: "I do not believe that the democratic party favors the government ownership of railroads, which means a public monopoly with dangerous centralized power and most helpful to socialism. The rate bill enacted by congress, if enforced, will remove the evils and oppressions of rebates and discriminations referred to by Bryan in his speech and will be complained of by the public and will leave the properties of the different roads in the hands of their stockholders, where they ought to be—subject to regulation by law. Federal and state ownership of trunk and local lines respectively appears to be totally impracticable and any effort of that kind would result in failure and finally in complete federal ownership."

Runaway Victims Improve.

Macon, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Mrs. George E. Calhoun, who was severely hurt in a runaway on Poplar street yesterday morning, has improved since going to her home, and, although painfully injured, she will be able to stir again within a short time. The little son who was also injured, has improved satisfactorily, and will soon be well of his bruises. Their friends have been much concerned, and were frequent callers at their home yesterday when reports of the accident gained circulation.

Taylor Will Recover.

Macon, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—E. L. Taylor, the night watchman who fell into an acid tank at the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company's plant, here, Friday night, and was horribly burned, has improved at the city hospital to such an extent that it is now announced that he will recover. Treatment of his wounds has been satisfactory.

Reduced Rates to Macon via Central of Georgia Rail- way.

Account of democratic state convention, September 4, the Central of Georgia railway will, on September 2 and 3, and for Friday night, and will be in effect before noon September 4, sell tickets from all points at rate of one fare, plus 25 cents, for round trip; final limiting returning September 8. NO REVOLUTION SAYS ROOSEVELT

President Explains His Views
On Spelling Reform.

If the Changes He Has Ordered Do Not Prove Popular They Will Be Dropped—The President
Writes to the Public Printer.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., September 2.—In a letter to Charles A. Stallings, public printer, at Washington, made public today, President Roosevelt wrote that if the changes in spelling advocated by the simplified spelling board and put into use in official documents meet popular approval they will be made permanent. If not, he wrote, they will be dropped. The president's letter follows: "Hon. Charles A. Stallings, Public Printer, Washington, D. C.—My Dear Mr. Stallings: I enclose herewith copies of certain circulars of the simplified spelling board, which can be obtained free from the board at No. 1 Madison avenue, New York city. Please direct that in all government publications of the executive department the three hundred words, enumerated in circular No. 5 shall be spelled as therein set forth. If anyone asks the reason for the action refer him to circulars 3, 4 and 5 as issued by the simplified spelling board. Most of the criticism of the proposed step is evidently made in entire ignorance of what the step is, no less than in entire ignorance of the very moderate and common sense views as to the purposes to be achieved, which views are so excellently set forth in the circulars to which I have referred.

"There is not the slightest intention to do anything revolutionary or to initiate any far-reaching policy. The purpose simply is for the government, instead of lagging behind popular sentiment to advance abreast of it and at the same time to use the most practical and the most profound scholars—men of the stamp of Professor Lounsbury and Professor Skeet. If the slight changes in the spelling of the three hundred words proposed wholly or partially meet popular approval, then the changes will become permanent without any reference to what public officials or individual private citizens may feel, if they do not ultimately meet with popular approval they will be dropped and that is all there is about it. They represent nothing in the world but a very slight extension of the unconscious movement which has made agricultural implement makers and farmers write 'plow' instead of 'plough,' 'honor' without the somewhat absurd, superfluous 'u,' and which is even now making people write 'program' without the 'me,' just as all people who speak English now write 'bat,' 'set,' 'dim,' 'sum' and 'fash,' instead of the Elizabethan 'batter,' 'sette,' 'dime,' 'sunme,' and 'fyshe,' which makes us write 'public,' 'almanack,' 'era,' 'fantasy,' and 'wagon,' instead of the 'publick,' 'almanack,' 'aera,' 'phantasy' and 'waggon,' of our great-grandfathers. It is not an attack on the language of Shakespeare and Milton, because it is in some instances a going back to the forms they used, and in others merely the extension of change, which, as regards other words, have taken place since their time. It is not an attempt to do anything far-reaching or sudden or violent, or indeed, anything very great at all. It is merely an attempt to cast what slight weight can properly be cast on the side of the popular forces which are endeavoring to make our spelling a little less foolish and fantastic.

"Sincerely yours,"

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Mr. Patterson Talks.

W. H. Patterson, the superintendent of the First Methodist Sunday school, saw the representative of The Constitution and said:

"I want to thank you for the article on soul winning in Monday's Constitution. I am for it. If I can help in any way, let me know. We need this more than anything I know. It will wake up our churches. The article was on the right line."

Rev. George Beattie, a Presbyterian minister of this city, and a prominent religious writer, came to The Constitution office to express his appreciation of the article, and said:

"I want to heartily thank you for the publication. Many of our churches have gotten out of the line of soul winning. I never close a service that I do not give the invitation. I understand there are many congregations that are surprised when the invitation is given. I went some time ago to conduct some services for a church in Georgia and before I went into the pulpit I said to one of the officers: 'If the way be open must I give the invitation to sinners at the close of the service.' He hesitated and said he did not know. I told him I would at every service conducted, and the first service thirteen responded when the invitation was given. The people were astonished."

"I believe the time is ripe for a canvass by all the churches for this. I think that the agitation is good and that the Christians ought to get together in their respective churches and laying aside all weights that hinder, prepare to work for conversions, through prayer and sacrifice, with such earnestness as has never before characterized their conduct."

The Christians Aroused.

The above serve as samples of the letters and the drift of the conversation of those who have paid any attention to the matter. The Christians are awake, and it would not surprise those who are closely watching the matter and praying for God to guide all things well, if the next few months did not witness a wonderful activity in all the churches—and along a line that will fire the zeal of the membership of the churches, and bring glory to God and success to his church on earth.

SOUL WINNING PROPOSAL STIRS CHURCH WORKERS

Recent Article in the Constitution Has Caused Much Comment By Pastors and By Laymen.

By Edward Young Clark.

UNLESS all signs fail, the coming year in local church circles is destined to be a record-breaker as regards conversions and additions to the local churches on profession of faith. The article in last Monday's Constitution, calling attention to the need for less attention to organization, and greater effort along soul-winning lines, has aroused a sympathetic approval throughout the entire religious element of the city.

The writer has received more than 50 letters from prominent religious workers in the city, commending the suggestion that the coming year be largely devoted to evangelistic work, and that all the forces of the churches be devoted, as far as practicable, towards the seeking and saving of the lost—the actively seeking after and trying to align with the churches those of the city and suburbs who have so far kept aloof from church circles.

One of the most prominent of those who have commended the idea has written as follows: "Those who have had occasion to observe the matter know that for the past ten years the evangelistic spirit has been to a great degree smothered by the cry of organization, and the perfecting of the manifold organizations of the church has done much to disorganize the soul winners. This has been caused by no particular fault of any one. But it is now time to take our active and live church organizations, and make them count for something definite along soul winning lines."

Christian Ready.

"I believe the Christians of Atlanta are ready for such a movement. What a grand thing it would be if for the next nine months every church in Atlanta should be a live and active evangelistic power! What a wonderful result would be shown by the final counting up of it all."

The spirit of soul winning is in the atmosphere, and has never before been known as many individual Christians who felt their responsibility along this line as at the present time.

"What we want to see is each church working for itself and arousing its members to action. Let the business men who are Christians be up and at the work as well as the women. Let us add to the church membership by hard work and earnest prayer. The field is great and the harvest is white—can we not step in and begin to garner?"

"I am a business man employing 75 workers. Only twenty are members of any church. I intend, with the assistance of my pastor, to make it my special duty to get them aligned with some church before the year is over."

"If any individual church is desirous of calling a special religious worker, why let them do so, and if the Business Men's Gospel Union wants to help the various churches, let them do so. What we want is a long and protracted season of soul seeking. Can we not get it at this time?"

"It may be interesting to know that there has been half a dozen earnest Christians praying for over a year that the local churches would wake up to their opportunity and get their membership at once seeking for the lost."

"If there is any way I can help the movement The Constitution has only to call upon me to find how ready I am to sacrifice, if need be, for the accomplishment of the desired result. Please withdraw my name from the public, as I do not wish to be known as a soul seeker in the work, as it might hurt me in my work among my own employees. The work must be done quietly and slowly. If we could get all of the Christians of Atlanta in secret service work for the Master, using only their spare time, we would have churches on fire and Atlanta waked up."

Dr. Hunt Writes.

Dr. Rolfe Hunt, D. D., the head of the Atlanta Bible school, which has as its main object the stimulating of Christians, after the reading of the article in last Monday's paper, wrote the editor of The Constitution and said:

"Keep up the line of the article in last Monday's paper, wrote the editor of The Constitution and said: 'The Constitution has only to call upon me to find how ready I am to sacrifice, if need be, for the accomplishment of the desired result. Please withdraw my name from the public, as I do not wish to be known as a soul seeker in the work, as it might hurt me in my work among my own employees. The work must be done quietly and slowly. If we could get all of the Christians of Atlanta in secret service work for the Master, using only their spare time, we would have churches on fire and Atlanta waked up.'"

COTTON INJURED BY BOLL WORMS

Pest Has Done Much Damage in Some Sections.

Slight Improvement, However, in General Condition Is Reported.
Reports From North and South Carolina Show Cotton in a Bad Way.

The Georgia cotton crop, in most sections of the state, is said to be in some better shape than it was a week or ten days ago, according to reports received at the state department of agriculture. Commissioner T. G. Hudson is now of the opinion that the condition of the crop is about 70 per cent as compared to an average, while two or three weeks ago his estimate was 65 per cent. He considers, however, that there has been some visible improvement, though the Georgia crop is yet far from being in the best of shape.

Diseases have been noted in several sections of the state, especially the boll worm, in southeastern Georgia, and anthracnose in the central section. These are destroying a considerable proportion of the crop in certain sections.

Picking has begun in south Georgia, and with favorable weather will progress rapidly. Fodder has about all been pulled. Turnips are making splendid progress, and a fine crop is promised.

CROP IN NORTH CAROLINA

PROMISES TO BE VERY SHORT

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The reports on the cotton crop from the various counties tell the story in the plainest sort of way. Green reports 50 per cent of a crop, Robeson 60, Cleveland 70, Johnston 50 and Craven 25. The reports from Wayne says that the figures there must be cut 20 per cent unless there is a late frost. The growth of the cotton plants on highland has been remarkable, while on sandy lands they have made very little growth and they are no larger than they were a month ago; are in very large areas drowned by the rain, and where this is not the case the plants are yellow and badly rusted and there is great shedding of bolls.

In the extreme east many farms are abandoned and officials of the agricultural department, who have just returned from that section where torrents of rain have fallen almost every day since June 3d, say they never saw anything like the destruction. It is said by the secretary of the State Cotton Growers' association that the estimate of 25 per cent for Craven, which is a typical county in the eastern rain belt, about thirty miles from the coast, may be taken as a type of all that region, say thirty-five counties, and that in these there will be from 20 to 25 per cent of a normal crop, the loss being entirely due to rains.

The oldest cotton buyer in Raleigh, who has been forty years in that business, says he feels certain that in that section a crop will be made in the state on sandy lands, but that if the weather is good from now until the end of the season, the frost holds off, there will be a tolerably fair crop of cotton and where there has been good cultivation and proper drainage.

Dr. Theron H. Rice, the pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, did not reach the city last week. His health was not such as would justify his return at the present time. He is now on the coast of Maine and it is not thought probable that he will return to Atlanta before the September 15 or October 1.

DECREASE IN CONDITION

FOR SOUTH CAROLINA

Columbia, S. C., September 2.—(Special.)—The excessive rainfall, more or less general during the month of August, has caused material damage to the cotton in South Carolina.

Rains have produced a superabundance of "weed" to the detriment of proper fruiting.

Clay and undulating lands have not suffered as much as flat sand lands, but in all places the excessive moisture has given impetus to grass growth and prevented proper or timely cultivation with sweeps.

Unless there is hot, clear weather in the near future there is danger of cotton rotting in the bolls or producing what is known as "blue" cotton. Reports now coming in show a great decrease in condition and it is believed that condition of the crop at present, while in some counties the condition is reported as low as 48 per cent.

Insects are bothersome in some sections, but the dreaded cicada, which appears at periods of seven years, and which affects only one county in this state—Edgefield—has not appeared in sufficient number to do much damage.

A few bales of new cotton have been reported.

LOSS OF VITALITY NOTED

IN MEMPHIS TERRITORY

Memphis, Tenn., September 2.—The Commercial-Appeal's weekly summary of crop conditions made up from the reports of special correspondents throughout the central states of the cotton belt is as follows:

Correspondents are not agreed as to the effects of the past week, which was cool and dry. None of them, however, report serious damage from the low temperature, and in most instances the dry weather was a boon, though there are sections needing rain. In these dry districts, which are scattered, dry most numerous in eastern Mississippi, some premature opening of the bolls is noted and a loss of vitality in the cotton. Throughout the four states of Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas there has been a material loss from the excellent condition prevailing early in August. Shedding continues and the growth in the bottom lands is rank.

Some picking has been done at all points, but it has not become general except in the southern districts. Another week will witness pretty general picking. Some dissatisfaction is expressed by farmers at present prices, which are considerably below 10 cents on the farm, and where conditions will allow of it there will be some holding of early picking.

DOUBLE HEADER
WITH MEMPHISFirecrackers Go Into Game
After a Hard Trip.Locals Will Be Inact for First Time in Several Days. Childs and Harley Have Been Sent Ahead of the Team.

After a long and tiresome journey, all the way from New Orleans, the Atlanta Firecrackers will reach the city some time this morning, and give battle to the Memphis team this afternoon at Piedmont. While both outfits have to jump into the fray shortly after alighting from the train, the enemy has a little better of the argument on the length of the trip, but if the cinders do not use the Firecrackers too roughly in regard to putting their battling lamps on the bum the remarkable business achieved on the road should be continued.

The team is very nearly intact now. Evers has been working in center while the Firecrackers were out in the wild and woolly, but in all probability Wallace, who was playing a nice game at the time his indisposition took him from the field, will make his appearance this afternoon after a two weeks' rest. Larry Hoffman is the latest addition to the lineup, but Moore will get back in harness today relieving Larry at short, and Jack Evers will disappear from the lineup.

The regular bunch haven't been together in many days, and it will be some time before the team is in its old shape again, and in pretty good shape at that. It is almost certain that all the regulars will be in action unless some accident befalls them before the call of play this afternoon. It is a matter of ancient history how the cripplingly departed two weeks hence, and raised a huge house with the westerners' aversion, and with this unexpected happening in mind the Atlanta patrons will be apt to lie themselves to Piedmont, and make strenuous effort during the next two weeks to help anchor the hope of Atlanta in second place.

Everything is propitious for such taking place, and while it seemed certain two weeks ago that the team would make a disgraceful finish, it is just as certain now that the windup will arrive with them keeping company with the best people. Birmingham first, and Atlanta a good second will be a very satisfactory state of affairs.

Since the east stood the game so well the west almost any brilliant doing hereafter will be taken as a matter of fact, and it is expected that the westerners will be separated from all honors in these last two weeks of the league season. The Memphis are the first of the outsiders to arrive, and Harley and Childs will open the series against them today, with these slabs having been sent ahead of the bunch to get rest and be fresh for the games this afternoon. Two new ones will be with the Memphis today, Jimmy Smith, who is working at short, and Nick Carter in right field. Otherwise, the team is as it was the last time the Memphis visited Piedmont.

FRANKLIN MAKES RECORD
TRIP ACROSS THE STATES

Taking a Nap While on the Road.

FROM San Francisco to New York in 15 days, 2 hours and 12 minutes, was the time of a record trip between these two points recently completed by a Franklin six-cylinder transcontinental car, thus reducing by more than half the Franklin 1904 record of 33 days, 23 hours, and 20 minutes over the same route.

The picture shows the occupants who drove the car in its flying trip from coast to coast taking a nap at Syracuse, N. Y., before going into Albany. Much of the rest taken by the touring party was after the fashion of that in the picture, as the remarkable time made did not allow for long stops along the route, and a greater part of the fifteen days consumed in the trip was spent in the car.

There are about a dozen of the Franklin cars of different types in Atlanta, owned by J. H. Nunnally, D. C. Lyle, John Cohen, W. B. Armstrong, Dr. E. Stickler, Restine Jackson, Charles E. Currier, Robert O'Donnell, C. M. White, A. G. Candier, and S. R. Jacobs.

ATLANTA AND BIRMINGHAM WON 20 GAMES FROM WEST
Birmingham for the Pennant and Atlanta for Second Place Is the Dope On the Finish of Race.

WHILE the New Orleans series finished yesterday did not break as well for the Firecrackers as the others played in the west, the showing made on the recent trip was an unusually happy one, to say the least of it.

Out of 16 games the local layout took 10, lost 5 and tied one, giving them the remarkable average of .667 for the trip, when one-half the games won by a team on the road is considered fine business, and one-third of them a fair showing. The team left two weeks ago and held Frank's people to a no decision contest, doing better still yesterday by taking the last half of the double bill.

The record would have been extraordinary for a bunch in good condition, but for the Atlanta crowd to leave home with almost the whole team on the sick or injured list and after losing steadily while they were at Piedmont, to jump into such a heavy winning streak was nothing short of remarkable. It was extremely pleasing to the local fans, as an unexpected good thing always is. It was thought when the team left that the explosion bound to occur could be heard clear from the western camps and the deadly stillness, broken only by the plaudits of the wondering multitudes in Atlanta, came as a surprise.

The record made by Atlanta was exactly equaled by Birmingham, the Barons' road figures reading the same, .667, the league leaders and successful flag aspirants playing fifteen games, winning ten and losing five.

They opened the road engagement in Shreveport and won the Sunday game, then lost the next day and secured double revenge by harpooning them in a double-header on the last day. New Orleans was the next way station and the Barons took the first two but drop-largest individual wager recorded was that made by T. J. Riley, the lessor of a prominent mining company. The bet is one of many peculiar wagers that have been made in connection with the coming fight. Riley put up on Nelson 250,000 shares of a mine valued at $25,000 against 400 shares of a mine controlled by a Goldfield man whose name was not divulged. It is said that the controlling interest of the mining company will hinge upon the result of the battle.

Many smaller bets at odds of 10 to 7 and in some cases 10 to 9 were made. Nelson's manager is not satisfied with the manner the betting on the result is conducted in Goldfield. He intimated that a clique of San Francisco sportsmen have "something up their sleeves" that bodes ill to Nelson.

Nelson's manager made the following statement tonight concerning his suspicions that Nelson would not receive fair play: "I have notified President Rickard, of the club, and Sheriff Bradley of my suspicions, and they have assured me that every protection will be given me tomorrow to guard against possible interference of any sort."

Beyond taking a short spin on the country roads during the early morning hours Nelson did nothing in the way of training today. "You can inform the world as large," said his manager, "that Nelson weighed in today at exactly 131 pounds, stripped, and as his fighting toes will weigh less than 2 pounds I see no necessity for doing any more hard work." Gans and his manager drew knowledge of any possible unfair play, and say the fight is theirs.

HIDE-BOUND HATS

MUCH STRONGERBetter Material at Barnesville This Year Than in 1905.

Barnesville, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Gordon Institute will open next Wednesday, Sept. 6, with the largest attendance in the history of the school, the prospects being the brightest ever known, and the patrons and faculty are highly elated over the outlook.

The heads of the athletic department are highly gratified at the strong showing of material that will be on hand to make up the football team for the coming season. With the fine prospects ahead in the way of material for the team, Coach Frank Barnes is giving Gordon another championship team this year, having won the title of southern champions last season. Eight of the ten year team will return this fall, among them being Captain Henry Williams, who led the team so successfully last season. The others of the team who will return are: Ben Franklin, left tackle; Dunn, left guard; Prout, center; Wilkison, right guard; O. Franklin, right tackle; Grace, right end; Joe Smith, quarter. Among the new material will be Hill, captain of Locust Grove last season; Mercer, all prep full back of Stone Mountain, last season, and about fifteen other good men, who will try for the team. The average weight of the team will be between 165 and 170 pounds.

The new rules adopted for the coming season are especially adapted to Coach Barnes' style of play, the open game being used so successfully last season. He has been making a careful study of the rules, and is greatly pleased with them. He promises to spring some surprise on the gridiron during the coming season. Blake will report for duty on September 10, but Captain Williams will put the men through the preliminary practices before the coach reports. The last preparation was given the title of the best prep captain in the south last season.

A fine schedule for the team has been arranged, and it includes some games that will be among the most interesting played in the south during the coming season. The games definitely arranged are: Boy's High school, of Atlanta, at Barnesville, September 22; Dahlonega, at Barnesville, September 29; Mercer (first team), at Barnesville, October 6; Auburn, at Auburn, October 13. Games will also be played with the following teams, but dates have not been arranged: Locust Grove, Stone Mountain, Georgia Military academy, Welsh Neck High school, Hartsville, S. C.; Florida State school, Lake City; Howard university, Birmingham, Ala.; Tech (first team), of Atlanta.

Thirty-one years ago a woman named Robertson purchased a ticket for Canada in Glasgow. For some feminine reason or other she changed her mind, but carefully preserved the ticket. A few days ago it was presented at one of the offices of the Allan line and duly honored, the company issuing an equivalent new ticket and retaining the old one as a curiosity.

POISONED FORAGE HAS KILLED MANY HORSES IN TARHEEL STATE

RALEIGH, N. C., Sep. 2.—(Special.)—The experts sent by the state agricultural department to Hyde county to make special investigation into the forage poisoning which is killing so many horses there, have returned, and as a result State Veterinarian Tait Butler is preparing a circular to the owners of horses in a score of counties in the north-eastern sections. The trouble has now assumed very large proportions, and the weather conditions continuing the most unfavorable ever known.

The report made was secured by your correspondent in a special interview. The experts say the outbreak began in the middle of July and since that date 140 horses have died in Hyde. Practically all die which are attacked. There is now no question as to the trouble being due to decayed forage. All previous information about such attacks has been confirmed. The officials are keeping in touch with the United States agricultural department. The situation is very trying. The people in that flooded section of the state, where usually the crops are magnificent, have lost almost all of their forage put up last year, practically all of which is affected. Many of the farmers have given mortgages on their horses in order to secure funds to raise the crop and now they have no crop with which to pay the amount. The fact is, the report says that many of the farmers are ruined, yet they are bearing up under it bravely. The oldest settlers say there has been no such year in the past half century as the one they are going through. A number of people have shipped their horses to Washington, Greenville and Norfolk, either to sell them or to have them at places where they can get other food, but the experts advise against this course, as they believe the same thing can be accomplished by securing feed from the up-country and giving it to the stock. The disease is worst in Hyde, coming next in Pamlico, where forty-five horses have died. There are cases of the disease in Beaufort, Washington, Jones, Craven, Tarrell and Currituck counties. The weather conditions could not be worse than they are at present, the atmosphere, reeking with moisture from the daily rains. The country is very flat and green areas are flooded. It is found to be difficult to induce a great many of the farmers to believe what the experts know to be the true cause of the disease. Many persons declare that it is due to grazing at night when the dew is on, others contend that it is caused by grazing when the sun is hot. Other beliefs are that the disease is produced by cobwebs, by worms in the ground, by miasma, mosquitoes, surface water, malaria, etc. This state of affairs is found to be very difficult to meet.

HAWK AND SNAKE ENGAGE IN BATTLE TO THE DEATH

RALEIGH, N. C., September 2.—(Special.)—Fred Hanna, while on his way to town from his home with a party of neighbors, called their attention to a very peculiar battle in the air. As they neared the tree they saw a large hawk fly from it into a clump of bushes, from which it arose with heavy wing-flapping, holding in its claws a long and large black snake, which it had seized near the neck. The hawk mounted higher and higher, the snake making a tremendous struggle, and finally the snake contrived to coil itself around the hawk's neck and soon its constrictive power began to tell and it coiled around the hawk's wing so as to bind the latter, both falling heavily to the ground. When the men went up to the place, the battle was still on, the hawk gripping the snake firmly and the latter using all its power of constriction. Hawk and snake were lifted up together and were then killed.

TRANSFER TELLS TIME TO ONE ATLANTA MAN

NOT one person in a thousand even notices the color of the slips a street car conductor furnishes the passenger desiring to transfer from one line to another and prolong the trip without a further payment of fare, yet there is a man making frequent use of the Atlanta cars who uses this little piece of paper as a substitute for a watch.

"I always ask for a transfer," remarked a passenger on the Decatur car line the other day, "whether I want to make use of it in the regular way or not, for I never carry a watch and the time limit punched on the ticket informs me of the time of day almost as accurately as a timepiece would."

BASEBALL MAN TAKES A BRIDE

Popular Columbus Baseball Player Was Married in Seattle, Wash.

Columbus, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Cliff D. Blankenship, of this city, the popular southern baseball player, who has been a prominent figure in western leagues for several years, was wedded today in Seattle, Wash. The couple left after the ceremony on a trip to St. Louis, Mo., at the close of the baseball season they will go east, and afterwards come to Columbus, Mr. Blankenship's home, where his parents reside.

THEATERS.

At the Casino.

There is every indication that the vaudeville circuit will continue through the week at a regular schedule of performances, will be one of the most pleasing that has entertained at the Ponce de Leon Club this season.

The bill is perhaps the best that has been put together, as it is lined up, simply because it has more variety than the average run. It is composed of the sort of acts that have always been popular, and there is no experiment in the arrangement of the programme.

One of the feature acts will be the Three Coates, an exceptionally clever novelty act, which has been featured at the best vaudeville theaters in the country. Within a few weeks the trio will report to one of the big producers of musical comedy, for assignment with one of the strongest new attractions to take the road.

Another feature of this act is absolute originality. Another feature will be the singing of Johnny Johnson and Bob Harris, the two former members of the Bilou Minstrel company, who always have great hit some weeks ago, has been declared to be the best of the season. The popular singing comedians will offer an entirely different act from that of some weeks ago, and will have one of the brightest features of the bill.

The Misses Banks and Brazeele, declared to be the creators of one of the most pleasing novelty musical acts in the country, will have a new and original feature of the bill. The pair have established themselves at the head of their department of vaudeville and their personality and their ability will be one of the strong points of the programme. Adeline Roth and Clara Stevens, in "Scenes from Wistaria Grove," will offer a positive novelty. These young women come direct from a New York success. One is a character actress, vocalist and the other is a dancer of rare magnetism.

Mildred Flora, is without question one of the most popular comedienne known in Atlanta. Aside from the fact that she is a girl with rare comedy talent, she is a vocalist of ability and there was never a funnier vaudeville stunt than her burlesque waltz specialty. The Cameragans will feature a new and original feature of the bill. The pair have established themselves at the head of their department of vaudeville and their personality and their ability will be one of the strong points of the programme.

PAVES THE WAY TO CURE CANCER

German Physician Makes Bacillus Culture on Plants.

Berlin, September 2.—Dr. Otto Schmidt, of Cologne, has succeeded in making cultures of the cancer bacillus in a certain mildew forming on plants. When transplanted to animals the bacillus caused genuine cancer.

In an interview with the correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger, Dr. Schmidt said: "I am the first man to prove that cancer can be artificially produced on animals."

Dr. Schmidt showed the correspondent several animals with cancer communicated through infection. He declared that a remedy for cancer was now possible. Since the discovery of the bacillus, Dr. Schmidt has been experimenting with the remedy, which has given good results, but apparently a cure is only possible when the case is little advanced. Where the ulceration was old, however, the disease was brought to a standstill and the condition of the patient showed great improvement.

Dr. Schmidt apparently has not told what his remedy is, but it is not a serum. Physicians maintain a cautious attitude toward Dr. Schmidt's discovery.

NEW YORK THEATERS OPEN.

Encounter a Heavy Gale Off Frying Pan Shoal Lightship.

New York, September 2.—The Ward line steamer "Vigilance," which arrived today from Cuba and Nassau, reports on September 1, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, 22 miles north of Diamond Shoals lightship, passed the schooner R. T. Rundlett, of Bristol, totally unharmed. She had several small sails set on spars under jerry rig and had one anchor. The captain said that she was dismasted off Frying Pan shoal lightship on Monday August 27, during a heavy squall, but did not require assistance. The Rundlett was bound from Norfolk for Jacksonville.

Among the passengers of the Vigilance was Julian Potter, United States consul at Nassau.

How to Secure a Technical Position.

It has been said that not one technician in a hundred knows how to sell his ability to the best advantage. As dean of the college of engineering at Washington and Lee University, Prof. D. C. Humphreys has had an opportunity to make a careful study of the subject. He has written the following valuable advice on the subject in a recent issue of Hapgood's opportunities.

The best way to secure a position is by personal interview, in which case the applicant should be well equipped with the facts of his work in the draughting line. The next is to have some acquaintance of the man to whom you are making the application write him a personal letter about you, which will be possible if you have a friend in the same line who can write a letter of recommendation.

The letter of application had best be very short and to the point. It should be accompanied by a typed, written statement of your past experience, education, etc., and a handwriting specimen. The statement should be something which a personal interview is not possible.

The technical graduate who is without practical experience has but little idea of what his services are worth. He usually has no opportunity to gain experience and prove his ability. Such a man, if he be a good draughtsman, a good mathematician, and has common sense, can make himself valuable to almost any employer.

Good engineering work evidence of good health is very important. A man who has to lay off on account of sickness is not a desirable man on an engineering corps.

"I think the high grade agencies offer a better way to market one's services and that this method will grow in importance. A man occupying a fairly good position usually has no opportunity to have his employers know that he is looking for another place."

Clerk Messenberg Improves.
Macon, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Clerk E. L. Messenberg, who has been confined to his room on account of illness for the past few days, has improved and indications now are that he will be able to sit out again within a short time. He suffered a slight illness that was not a brief time of absence, but severe symptoms have disappeared.

a host of imitators, but with his originality and by keeping abreast of the times, he maintained his position in the foremost rank of minstrelsy. His monologue this season is described as unique, while his songs and parodies are William A. Morris, Clifford Van, Henry Hunt and Edue Murray. The vocal soloist is said to be the strongest brought together in years and Harry Parkerson, Calvin Huss and Walter Leon. This company has a reputation for carrying the finest band of all minstrel band masters. He has won much distinction in musical circles as a composer and director, and has made the Haverly band famous throughout the world.
